

June 2007: Astrablu has entered into a three picture deal with Heavy Metal Magazine with the first live action film project being based on their bestselling book "Fistful of Blood" slated to start filming soon.

"Fistful of Blood" is based on the insane & cult-driven story, which tosses the Gothic Horror Genre into the Spaghetti Western ala "Fistful of Dollars" (Clint Eastwood). It is ripped from the bleeding-edge minds and pencils of Kevin Eastman and Comic Book fan-favorite, Simon Bisley.

Replacing Clint's solitary Western Gunfighter persona is a deadly, sexy, & voluptuous "High Plains Drifter" (Mystery Woman). She wanders into an isolated, semi-abandoned "ghost town" deep in the Badlands of the American Southwest.

She soon finds herself caught in a violent, three-way turf war between desperate Town Folk, Vampires and Cowboy Zombies. She battles gangs of Zombies only to suddenly encounter an outlandish gang of Vampire Outlaws' & their bloody trails. Our dangerous, bad-girl Gunfighter is quickly forced to put her deadly guns to use in an all-out effort to survive the battle between the Town's innocent, the evil insurgents, and her very soul.

Hot chicks, six guns and armies of the ghoulish undead. How better to deliver Heavy Metal Magazine's & Kevin Eastman's millions in fan-following their requested Screen thrills d'jour?

Astrablu has obtained the non-exclusive use of the Heavy Metal Logo and Trademark for the use in the Picture and its promotion. We have also entered into an agreement with Metal Mammoth, Inc. through its exclusive licensing agent J. Roth and Associates for all the merchandising on the picture to include but not limited to TOYS, GAMES, BOOKS, VIDEO GAMES, SOUNDTRACK and APPAREL.

There is a direct tie-in with the Heavy Metal Magazine's Internet Web page www.heavymetal.com that receives over 10,000 hits per day as well as the Heavy Metal magazine itself that will be promoting the Picture.
